ARC’s Vision for Arts and Culture

Metro Atlanta values arts and culture as essential for building a thriving, inclusive, and economically healthy region, and recognizes its transformative role in addressing broader civic issues.
Creative Placemaking, a definition

Creative placemaking integrates arts into how communities (residents, organizations, businesses, local government) develop land-use, transportation, economic development, education, housing, infrastructure, and public safety strategies. Creative placemaking supports local efforts to enhance quality of life and opportunity for existing residents, increase creative activity, and celebrate a distinct sense of place. Creative placemaking at its best is locally defined and informed and about the people who live, work, and play in a place.

You are undertaking the first experience,
not of the place,
but of yourself in that place.
