Georgia Urban Forest Council – First Quarterly Program: Join us for this inspiring event presented by Trees Atlanta, the Georgia Forestry Commission, and the Georgia Urban Forest Council. This event is an opportunity to network with partners while learning best practices for supporting a model urban tree program. We'll hear an exciting talk from Danielle Crumrine, Executive Director of Tree Pittsburgh, and Josh Lippert CFM, ASLA, Senior Environmental Planner for the City of Pittsburgh, about their accomplishments in "Connecting Pittsburgh with Trees: Pittsburgh Urban Forest Master Plan." Ryan Gravel, Founder of the Atlanta BeltLine, will facilitate a panel discussion on "Planning and Designing our Cities with Trees" with panelists Decatur Mayor Patti Garrett, Danielle Crumrine, Josh Lippert, Walter Brown of Green Street Properties (invited) and Tim Keane, Commissioner of the Department of Planning and Community Development for the City of Atlanta. After lunch, Robert Farris, Director of the Georgia Forestry Commission, will recognize new and renewing Tree City USA communities, Tree Line USA utility companies, and Tree Campus USA colleges present. Ryan Gravel will then speak on "Creating a Long-Term Vision for City Growth and Tree Canopy Preservation." Wednesday, February 17, 2016, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

South Metro Development Outlook: South Metro Development Outlook (SMDO) is the brainchild of Michael Hightower who is the Managing Partner at The Collaborative Firm, a land use planning, program management and real estate development company located in East Point, Georgia. SMDO serves as a platform to convene elected officials and industry professionals with a common interest in examining and discussing relevant growth-related issues in the southern crescent. It highlights the following seven South Metro counties and the southern part of Atlanta: Clayton, Coweta, Douglas, Fayette, Henry, Spalding and South Fulton. <http://southmetrooutlook.com/index.php/register-now>

Atlanta Regional Historic Preservation Forum: ARC Modern Buckhead Bus Tour: The ambitious 1952 annexation, which brought the Buckhead area into the city of Atlanta, included over 50,000 acres of land and added approximately 100,000 new residents. By far the largest annexation in its history, it tripled the size of the city. Breaking with neoclassical precedent, the new architecture along Peachtree reflected the ambition of the age. This Forum, co-sponsored by the Buckhead Heritage Society, will focus on the buildings along Peachtree Road in Atlanta constructed between 1940 and 1990. A lecture at the Buckhead Library will introduce the context of the time and the area. A bus tour will be offered that traces the development history of this corridor and highlights over 25 notable structures along the five miles between the historic Brookwood area to the iconic Lenox Square. <http://modernbuckheadbustour.eventzilla.net/web/event?eventid=2138840429>
Before the bus tour, there is a lecture. If you would like to sign up for the lecture, go to <http://modernbuckheadlecture.eventzilla.net>

2016 Georgia Tech SoA/SCaRP/PubP Career Fair : This year, Georgia Tech's Architecture, City and Regional Planning, and Public Policy schools will once again cooperate on a Career Fair to help you recruit the best design and policy professionals. This event is intended to broaden applicant pools and enhance the fit between graduating students in architecture, city and regional planning, geographic information science, public policy and urban design and employers, but it also serves to open doors for intern placements and later employment. The fair will take place on Friday, March 11, 2016.

Community Choices Implementation Assistance Program: The Community Choices Program provides cities and counties with the tools, technical assistance and resources to help them create communities that best suit their unique visions. Cities and counties across the Atlanta region develop plans and policies that foster economic growth, promote sustainability, enhance public health and plan for development that helps communities realize their visions. The Community Choices program presents local governments with a great opportunity to fund resources to implement plans and prepare for the future. Community Choices is an annual, competitive solicitation open to city and county governments in the 10-county Atlanta region who need assistance to develop tools to implement their plans and policies. The Application deadline is March, 16, 2016. Click here for more information: <http://www.atlantaregional.com/local-government/community-choices-implementation-assistance-program>
