1. In reference to this ARC's RFP for Regional Public Affairs Services, what firms are most likely to respond to this RFP and/or which firms have responded to similar requests in the past?

This is an open RFP for a broad-based set of services. There are no restrictions on what firms may be eligible to respond. Current ARC staff were not involved in similar requests in the past, but the understanding is that, generally, professional public affairs firms, law firms, or other independent contractors specializing in public policy consultation would have responded to such similar requests.
